

Senior Lunch Program Makes a Difference in Health and Quality of Life

Community SeniorServ (CSS), one of the largest nonprofit senior nutrition programs in California and in the US, has completed an extensive outcomes study on the impact of its Senior Lunch program. CSS serves a hot, nutritious lunch at 27 centers in Orange County that have a combined average daily attendance of 1,450 older adults. This program is largely funded through the Older Americans Act (Title III Congregate Meals).

OUTCOMES REVEAL IMPACT

The SeniorServ study included 1,200 senior citizens who participate in the lunch program and other activities at their local senior center. The research was independently designed, monitored and analyzed by DoctorS Nonprofit Consulting in Southern California, under the direction of Drs. Dallas and Debbie Stout. Survey results revealed the following:

- 68% of seniors reported the lunches have improved their quality of life
- 59% said their physical health has improved because of the program
- 81% reported they would be at home if they didn't come to the lunch program
- 95% have more friends as a result of the program, including 48% who have significantly more friends
- 52% feel more connected to their community and city since attending the program

The data for this study was self-reported by the seniors. Sixty five percent were female, 68% percent were over the age of 70 and more than a third were ethnic minorities.

Given 33% of those surveyed reported eating just one well balanced meal a day at home, the senior lunch program clearly improves nutritional intake. Further, the program also overwhelmingly meets its goal of providing socialization for participants, given that 81% indicated they would be at home if they had not come to the program. Respondents who reported they were happy most days showed significantly higher levels of physical health, number of friends and quality of life. The more they attended the lunch program, the more they reported being happy.

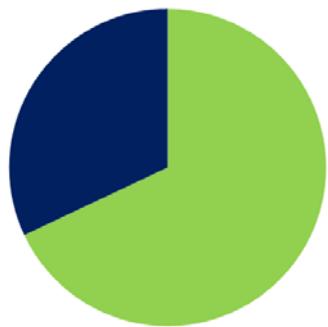

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

In addition to the Senior Lunch Program, Community SeniorServ also provides Meals on Wheels and case management services to 1,000 homebound older adults who are no longer able to get out and shop or cook for themselves. The nonprofit also operates two Adult Day Health Care Centers and an Adult Day Care Center.
